

Casey Sullivan

Letter of Recommendation 1

To Whom It May Concern,

I have had the pleasure of teaching Casey Sullivan in Honors English for the past academic year. Casey has been a consistent and engaged student whose approach to learning embodies a genuine curiosity. While Casey's academic performance has been respectable, with a GPA of 3.3 and SAT score of 1270, their true strength lies in their extraordinary ability to express complex ideas through the written word.

Casey excels in areas that aren't easily measured by grades or tests. They have a knack for challenging traditional perspectives and encouraging thoughtful dialogue in class discussions. This skill became particularly evident during our unit on American literature, where Casey took the lead in discussions about faith and community—values they hold dear. Their interpretations of classic texts always bring something fresh and insightful to the table, leading to more engaging and enriching discussions for the entire class.

It is not just their academics that make Casey stand out; they are also an active member of the school's Acapella Group. This involvement complements their values of harmony and community, and it's clear to see how the discipline and teamwork of group singing have enhanced their interpersonal skills.

I have no doubt that Casey will make a positive contribution to any college community they join. They have the intellect, emotional intelligence, and strength of character to excel both academically and personally. I strongly recommend Casey Sullivan for admission to your institution.

Sincerely,

Casey Sullivan's Honors English Teacher
